

Short Rotation Forages

The objective of this project is to determine the residual soil nitrogen from short rotation (2 year) legume hay crops that is available for use by subsequent cereal and oilseed crops.

Support for this project is provided by the Western Beef Development Centre.